Sports Information

The theme surrounding the Illinois cross country program in 2002 is continued improvement. Despite finishing 10th at the conference meet, the Illini showed improvement throughout the season culminating in a seventh-place showing at the NCAA Midwest Regional.

All but two runners from the 2001 season return for Gary Wieneke's 36th season at the helm of the Illinois cross country program including the runner who showed the most improvement last season, First Team All-Big Ten selection John Kronforst.

Prior to last season, Kronforst's best finish was a 13th-place showing at the Pre-Regional Meet in 2000. However in 2001 Kronforst earned three top-10 finishes including seventh at the Big Ten Championships where he became the first Illinois all-conference performer since 1996, while moving into sixth on the all-time 8,000 meter performance chart with a time of 24:13.2.

"Even more critical than John's leadership during competition will be his leadership in working with some of our younger runners as a peer," head coach Gary Wieneke said. "John is a very self-motivated runner and is what you look for as a leader. He had a great season last year and has the mindset to continue improving."

While the No. 1 position for the Illini is in good hands, it's the next four spots that will determine how good Illinois can be this season. One of those runners looks to be senior Aaron Wahls who had a strong finish to his junior campaign and is fully recovered from a foot injury that plagued him during the 2002 outdoor track and field season. Last year, Wahls finished as Illinois' No. 2 runner in the final two meets including a 34th-place finish at the NCAA Midwest Regional. His time of 25:20.9 at the Big Ten Championships also established a personal best for the senior at 8,000 meters.

"Aaron had a great sophomore year and got back to that form at the end of last season," Wieneke said. "He needs to start the season where he finished off last year and continue to improve from there."

Senior Justin Mitchell also returns and will be in contention after he was consistently the team's second scorer during the first half of the 2001 season. Mitchell came though with personal-best times and finishes as a junior, recording a sixth-place showing at the Purdue Meet of Champions and a career-best 8,000 meter time of 24:45.

Joining Mitchell are returnees Adam Palumbo, Brent Pfeiffer and Tim Seiwert. Palumbo was consistently the third finisher for the Illini last season, while Pfeiffer and Seiwert each set new personal-best times in the 8,000 meters last season.

A relative newcomer, Tim Hobbs is also expected to make an impact for the Illinois cross country team this season after redshirting in 2001. The York High School standout is coming off a successful track season that saw him earn Big Ten Track and Field Athlete of the Week accolades after he led both the 4x800 meter and sprint medley relay teams to wins at the Drake Relays last spring. The Elmhurst, Ill., native was also one of Illinois' top 800m threats during the track season and will look to carry that success over to his first cross country season.

"Tim has had success at every level," Wieneke said. "He learned a lot last season as a redshirt and now I expect him to be ready to contribute. He is coming off a good outdoor track season and I think that will help his confidence"

Wieneke will also look to a pair of incoming freshmen to make early impact as the top-two finishers at the 2002 Illinois Class A State Cross Country Championships will be in Illinois uniforms this fall.

Paul Jellema enters Illinois after putting together an impressive prep resume that includes a pair of state cross country championships and two-mile track title as a junior. As a senior, Jellema won the state meet by over 15 seconds en route to running a three-mile time of 14:32, the second-fastest time ever recorded at the Class A State Championships.

Jason Bill is another heralded prep recruit entering this season and is a two-time all-state performer in cross country. This season, Bill finished second at the Class A Cross Country State Championships and was the Class A State Champion on the track in the 1,600 meters.

"In my opinion, Paul and Jason are two of the top three high school runners in the state this year regardless of class," Wieneke said. "They have both improved throughout their careers and want to get better. They will be important to this team."

Whether it be an upperclassman or a newcomer, Wieneke knows that his team's success this season will depend on the number of runners able to take that next step in their improvement. The Illini showed they have an established runner who ranks among the best in the Big Ten in Kronforst. If the rest of the team is able to make that same improvement this season, Gary Wieneke could have another surprise for the Big Ten in 2002.

John Kronforst (far right) will look to repeat as a first team All-Big Ten selection this fall.

The dean of Fighting Illini head coaches, Gary Wieneke celebrates his 36th year as the Illinois head cross country coach.

One of the nation's most respected distance coaches, Wieneke guided Illinois to the Big Ten Cross Country Championship in 1984 and has led the Illini to five top-10 finishes at the NCAA Cross Country National Championships. Under his direction, the Illinois cross country team has finished in the Big Ten's upper division 26 times in his 36 years. Last season, Wieneke tutored his eighth runner to First Team All-Big Ten honors as John Kronforst finished seventh at the Big Ten Championships and went on to earn all-Midwest Regional accolades with an eighth-place showing.

Wieneke has also enjoyed immense success at the head of the men's track and field program where he will be entering his 29th season as head coach. During his tenure, the Fighting Illini have won five indoor and six outdoor Big Ten Conference track and field titles and finished runner-up at the 1988 NCAA National Indoor Track and Field Championships, while claiming fourth at the 1995 NCAA indoor meet.

Wieneke's inaugural squad finished in the Big Ten cellar, but only two years later the Fighting Illini captured second place. The Big Ten crown won by the 1984 team was Illinois' first since 1947 and UI's third-ever in cross country.

Recognized as one of the country's top middle distance coaches, Wieneke has guided 13 cross country runners to All-America status, including former world-record holder and two-time world and NCAA champion Craig Virgin.

"I am very proud to have been a member of the Illinois cross country team and am very proud of its success," Virgin said. "I will always be loyal to Coach Wieneke for giving me tremendous support while I was at the University of Illinois. He is a very sincere, hard-working person. Technically, he's an excellent coach. He knows a lot about training and has meshed that with excellent administrative skills. He has built a very competent track and field staff to complement his abilities as a distance coach."

Wieneke was coach of the United States Junior National Team in 1989 and has served as head coach for the Midwest region team at the United States Olympic Committee National Sports Festival and for the United States team at the 1979 World Cup of Track and Field. He has also been chairman of the USOC middle distance events.

He is a eight-time NCAA District IV Coach of the Year and was named NCAA National Indoor Track and Field Coach of the Year in 1987. He is a three-time Big Ten Outdoor Track Coach of the Year, last winning the honor in 1994.

In 1991, Wieneke was inducted into the Illinois Track and Cross Country Coaches Hall of Fame. He was also a 1992 Drake Relays Hall of Fame inductee, joining former UI coaches Harry Gill and Leo Johnson.

Wieneke came to Illinois from Guilford High School in Rockford, where he was head track and field coach for three seasons. Prior to that, he coached at New Trier High School (Winnetka).

He began his coaching career at Bowling Green State University where he served as a graduate assistant while working toward his master's degree. Following his stint at BGSU, Wieneke returned to his home state to pursue teaching and coaching on a full-time basis.

Wieneke was a four-year letterwinner in both track and cross country at Augustana (Ill.) College, where he set the school record in the 880-yard run in addition to sharing two relay records. He received a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1962.

Prior to enrolling at Augustana, Wieneke served three years in the U.S. Army. He and his wife, Peggy, reside in White Heath.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS
BLUE GOLF COURSE
MEN'S COURSE: 8,000/10,000 m

Illinois' cross country course is located on the Blue Golf Course in Savoy.

The University of Illinois Cross Country Course is located on the Blue Golf Course in Savoy. The 5,000-meter course is made up of a series of four loops, one 2,000-meter and three 1,000-meter loops, which interchange at the starting point, making it an excellent spectator course.

For the 8K, the men run one 2,000-meter and three 1,000-meter loops, repeating the three 1,000-meter loops. For the 10K, the four loops are each run twice. The course is relatively flat, providing excellent footing.

The Blue Golf Course, which was opened in 1965, was preceded by the University's connecting Orange Course, which was completed in 1949. In the past, the Illinois cross country team has competed on both the Blue and Orange courses.

Illinois also uses the Dowell Property, a forest preserve near Lake of the Woods State Park in Mahomet, Ill. The course is a 5,000-meter loop of mowed trails. The terrain is rolling to hilly with very few flat areas.

A Look Back at 2001

The 2001 season was one of steady improvement for the Illinois runners. In all, 19 different runners competed during the season, with a majority of those runners setting or establishing career-best times in 2001.

As a team, Illinois had some impressive overall finishes. A second-place finish at the Purdue Meet of Champions opened the season as John Kronforst and Justin Mitchell placed one, two for the Illini. A seventh-place showing at the 28-team Arkansas Chile Pepper Invitational highlighted the middle portion of the year as Kronforst finished 27th to pace the Illini once again.

The Illini earned another top-10 team finish at the NCAA Midwest Regional, finishing seventh at the 24 team event, with Kronforst finishing ninth overall in the race.

While the team steadily improved, no one improved as drastically as Kronforst. In addition to leading the team in every race, the Prospect Heights, Ill., native made as big an improvement as anyone in the Big Ten earning First Team All-Big Ten honors after sitting out the 2000 season with a leg injury. The junior sprinted to a seventh-place finish at the conference meet, giving him his second of three top-10 finishes on the year.

In fact, Kronforst wasn't the only junior to improve his times on the year. During the last-two meets of the year, Aaron Wahls was consistently running second to Kronforst giving the Illini a solid one-two finishing punch.

After Kronforst and Wahls, Adam Palumbo may have been the team's most consistent runner scoring in each of the team's six meets, earning three top-three team finishes, including a top-10 finish at the Purdue Meet of Champions.

Adam Palumbo was Illinois' third scorer at the Big Ten meet.

The Big Ten Conference

Established 107 years ago, the Big Ten Conference is one of organized sports most successful associations. On Jan. 11, 1895, seven presidents from Midwest universities met at the Palmer House in Chicago and established principles for which the Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives, more popularly known as the Big Ten Conference, would be founded. In 1995-96, the conference recognized its Centennial with a year-long celebration.

The charter members of the "Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives," or "Western Conference," or "Big Ten Conference" were: the University of Chicago, the University of Illinois, the University of Michigan, the University of Minnesota, Northwestern University, Purdue University and the University of Wisconsin. Indiana University and the State University of Iowa were admitted in 1899. Ohio State joined in 1912. Chicago withdrew in 1946 and Michigan State was added in 1949. After a 40-year period of constancy in membership, Penn State joined the conference in 1992-93.

The first "official" sponsored championship was in outdoor track; it was held by the University of Chicago in 1906. Since then, there have been many different athletic events popularized on Big Ten campuses. Some, like football and basketball became extremely popular, while others, like boxing, fell by the wayside.

The Big Ten named its first individual cross country champion in 1908 and recognized its first team champion in 1910. Exclusive conference championship meets began in 1926 and have been held annually since 1938. Fourteen Big Ten teams have won NCAA team titles, and Big Ten athletes have won eight NCAA individual titles, including Illinois' Craig Virgin in 1975.

History of Illinois Cross Country

The University of Illinois has had a strong and successful program ever since the early 1900s. The impressive performers and teams, however, have seemed to overflow during Gary Wieneke's tenure.

Twenty-six of Wieneke's teams have finished in the upper division of the Big Ten. Several great runners have made significant contributions throughout these successful years. Most recently, Len Sitko owned the spotlight. Sitko finished second in the 1990 Big Ten meet and went on to earn All-America honors with a 22nd-place finish at the NCAA meet.

In the 1980s, UI won one Big Ten crown and finished second on four other occasions. The premier runners of the decade were All-Americans Kerry Dickson, Jeff Jacobs, Greg Domantay, Ty Wolf and Joe Leuchtmann.

The '70s were dominated by great individual performances. In 1971, Rick Gross finished second in the Big Ten and ninth in the nation. Jim Eicken earned All-America honors in 1978, and Mike Durkin finished third in the conference and 18th in the nation in 1973.

Craig Virgin was synonymous with success in the early 1970s. He was the first runner in Big Ten history to become a four-time cross country champion, winning the crown from 1973-76. Virgin also won the 1975 NCAA championship and went on to win the cross country world championship in 1980 and '81.

Each year, most of these former athletes, along with dozens of other Illinois cross country alumni (and their families) from all decades, return to Champaign-Urbana one weekend during the fall to keep the Fighting Illini tradition alive. The returnees annually challenge the current team to an exhibition meet.

Since its founding in 1867, the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign has earned a reputation of international stature. Its distinguished faculty, outstanding resources, breadth of academic programs and research disciplines, and large, diverse student body constitute an educational community ideally suited for scholarship and research.

STUDENTS

The University has a fundamental commitment to undergraduate education. Nearly 28,000 undergraduate students are enrolled in nine undergraduate divisions, which together offer some 4,000 courses in more than 150 fields of study.

The divisions are the College of Agricultural, Consumer and Environmental Sciences; College of Applied Life Studies; College of Commerce and Business Administration; College of Communications; College of Education; College of Engineering; College of Fine and Applied Arts; College of Liberal Arts and Sciences; and Institute of Aviation.

Undergraduate admission is highly selective. In the 2001 freshman class, students in the middle 50% had ACT scores between 25 and 30 and ranked between the 83rd and 96th percentiles of their high school graduating classes.

WORLD-CLASS FACULTY

Among the University's most significant resources is its talented and highly respected faculty. Many are recognized for exceptional scholarship with memberships in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the National Academy of Sciences, and the National Academy of Engineering; with the National Medal of Science and the Fields Medal in Mathematics; as National Science Foundation Young Investigators and as recipients of Presidential Early Career Awards for Scientists and Engineers; and by such organizations as the National Endowment for the Humanities, Guggenheim Memorial Foundation, National Academy of Education, and the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation.

COMPUTING

A world leader in supercomputing design and applications, the University is home to the National Center for Supercomputing Applications, developer of the hypermedia browser Mosaic™, which revolutionized the use of the World Wide Web. Students have access to thousands of computer terminals in classrooms, residence halls, and campus libraries for use in classroom instruction, study, and research.

RESEARCH

Students and scholars find the University an ideal place to conduct inter- and multidisciplinary research. The most visible example of the University's commitment to such study is the Beckman Institute for Advanced Science and Technology, where eighteen research groups from sixteen University departments work within and across three broadly defined themes: biological intelligence, human-computer intelligent interaction, and molecular and electronic nanostructures.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Academic resources on campus are among the finest in the world. The University Library is the largest public university collection in the world, housing 22 million items in the main library and in the more than 40 departmental libraries and units. The library's computerized cataloging system was the first in the world to serve as the primary access to a large academic library. More than one million users worldwide access the online catalog each week.

THE ARTS

A major center for the arts, the campus attracts dozens of nationally and internationally renowned artists each year to its widely acclaimed Krannert Center for the Performing Arts. Designed by alumnus Max Abramovitz, an architect of New York City's Lincoln Center, the facility has four indoor theaters and an outdoor amphitheater. Together, they host more than 350 performances each year. The University also supports two major museums: the Krannert Art Museum and Kinkead Pavilion, second only to the Art Institute of Chicago among Illinois public art museums; and the Spurlock Museum, a museum of world history and culture, scheduled to open in 2002.

Other major facilities include the multi-purpose Assembly Hall (16,500 seats), which hosts concerts, convocations, theater, and sporting events; Memorial Stadium (70,000 seats), site of Big Ten Conference football games; and the Intramural-Physical Education Building, one of the largest recreational facilities of its kind on a university campus.

OUR GRADUATES SUCCEED

Freshman retention and overall graduation rates are well above the national averages. Typically, approximately 90 percent of freshmen return for their sophomore year. The graduation rate for students who enter the university on a full-time basis is approximately 80 percent. The national average for four-year schools is approximately 50 percent. Each year, more than 400 graduates are accepted to law school. Medical school admissions are also impressive with more than 200 students admitted each year.

Located in east central Illinois in the twin cities of Urbana and Champaign (combined population 100,000), the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign is the state's flagship public university.

Foellinger Auditorium anchors the south end of the Quad in the center of campus.

HOUSING

All freshmen attending the University of Illinois are required to live in certified university housing. Options include any one of the university's 21 residence halls, one of a number of privately-owned residence halls near campus or any one of Illinois' 53 fraternities or 29 sororities. University residence halls offer any number of amenities, including dining halls, study areas, fitness centers and cable and computer network connections in each room. Fighting Illini freshman baseball players traditionally choose to reside in one of six residence halls that are clustered across the street from Memorial Stadium and a short walk from both the Quad and Illinois Field.

CAMPUS RECREATION

Illinois' Division of Campus Recreation (DCR) offers one of the best university recreation programs in the country. Nearly 8,000 students and staff members per semester participate in 30 individual and team intramural activities, including flag football, basketball, tennis, broomball and volleyball. IMPE, the DCR's cornerstone facility, houses indoor basketball, tennis, racquetball, cardiovascular equipment and classes, swimming and weight training. In-line skating and sand volleyball courts are maintained in season and Illinois students also have access to the campus ice arena and two 18-hole golf courses.

One of DCR's newest additions is the Campus Recreation Outdoor Center (C-ROC). At C-ROC, students can check out skis, camping gear and bikes, among other adventure equipment. DCR also offers weekend and longer rafting, hiking and skiing trips out of C-ROC.

CULTURE AND ENTERTAINMENT

In addition to hosting the men's and women's basketball teams in action, the Assembly Hall has hosted concerts, circuses, ice shows and Broadway musicals. Beautifully restored Foellinger Auditorium on the Quad also is home to concerts and films. The Krannert Center for the Performing Arts holds four theaters for plays, dance and concerts.

There are approximately 850 student organizations at Illinois to meet the individual needs and desires of each student. Quad Day, held during the first week of school, offers a chance for students to sample the various activities available to them.

If your interests include activities such as movies, bowling or golf, the Champaign-Urbana area can accommodate you. There are several movie theaters, including a 16-screen theater about five minutes from campus.

The Champaign-Urbana community, with its population of 110,000 offers a large number and variety of restaurants. From tradition steakhouses to Italian, Japanese and any other variety of food, the area offers something for everyone. The C-U area also houses plenty of shopping opportunities, including the newly renovated MarketPlace Mall.

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics (DIA) was chartered in 1892 as a not-for-profit corporation of the State of Illinois. It was charged with overseeing and conducting the University's intercollegiate athletic programs and associated support services, and operated as a separate entity.

After the state legislature voted in June 1989 to bring UI athletics within the University proper, the DIA assumed the functions and responsibilities of the Athletic Association. The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics began operations officially July 1, 1989, and now, more than a century after University of Illinois athletics began, the mission is still to achieve excellence both in the classroom and in sport competition.

The director of athletics is the division's chief executive officer, and reports directly to the chancellor of the Urbana-Champaign campus. The chancellor has final authority regarding the athletic program in all areas except for budget and major appointments. Those decisions rest with the University of Illinois Board of Trustees.

The Assembly Hall is the home of Illinois basketball.

The Athletic Board serves the DIA in an advisory capacity. It is composed of 18 members, (nine faculty, five alumni, three students and one trustee); and the three non-voting (ex-officio) members from the University administration. The faculty and student members are nominated by the Urbana-Champaign Senate and selected by the chancellor.

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics does not receive state tax dollars and over the years has been able to fully fund the NCAA maximum allowable number of athletic scholarships for student-athletes in each of its sports programs, as well as to hire excellent coaches and maintain and upgrade its facilities, staying on par with the best major collegiate programs across the nation.

This has been accomplished through revenues derived from four major sources: gate receipts from football and men's basketball; television and radio rights fees for those two sports; corporate sponsorships and donations to the I FUND. The I FUND contributions provide the maximum allowable number of scholarships in the 19 men's and women's sports at an average annual cost of approximately $10,000 for in-state student-athletes and about $15,000 for those from outside Illinois.

The Bielfeldt Athletic Administration Building opened in 1996.

• Illinois athletic teams took three Big Ten titles during the 2001-02 campaign. The football team earned its first outright championship since 1984, while the men's basketball team repeated as regular-season co-champions. The men's tennis team won an unprecedented sixth-straight regular season Big Ten title.

• The Illini also boasted four Big Ten Coaches of the Year, two Big Ten Freshmen of the Year and a Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year.

• Cross Country's John Kronforst finished seventh at the Big Ten Championships to earn All-Big Ten honors and took eighth at regionals, earning All-NCAA Midwest Region accolades.

• Baseball's Andy Dickinson tied the Illinois career wins record with 30. He was also the second pitcher to win 10 games in two different seasons, and the first to do it consecutively. His 107 strikeouts were one short of a single season record.

• The back-to-back Big Ten titles were the first for the men's basketball team in 50 years. The team accomplished the feat by winning 26 games, the third-most in school history.

• Women's basketball player Iveta Marcauskaite ranked fifth in the nation with a shooting percentage of .623 from the field. The mark led the Big Ten and set an Illinois single season record.

• The football team finished the year 10-2, their first 10-win season since 1989. They also earned their first berth in the Bowl Championship Series.

• The men's golf team took fourth place at the NCAA Central Regional to advance to the NCAA Championships for the first time since 1999.

• The women's golf team recorded four of the five lowest rounds in school history, advancing to the NCAA central regional for the first time.

• The men's gymnastics team finished the regular season with a record of 17-2. They went on to finish ninth at the NCAA Championships as freshman Peter Shostchuk (pommel horse) and senior J.G. Ketchen (still rings) earned All-America honors.

• Ashley Williams of the women's gymnastics team earned Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors as well as being named the Fighting Illini Female Newcomer of the Year. Williams and teammate Jana Gallagher advanced to the NCAA South Central Regional as all-arounders.

• Soccer senior Colleen Joyce earned All-Big Ten honors while freshmen Leisha Alcia and Tara Hurless were named to the All-Tournament team for their outstanding performances in the Big Ten Tournament.

• Softball had the best combined first two seasons in Big Ten history and advanced to the Big Ten Tournament for the second straight year. They also finished the 2002 season fifth in the nation with a fielding percentage of .973.

• Senior Jessica Aveyard took second in the 200 backstroke at the Big Ten Championships as well as earning All-

America honors in the event for the third straight year.

• Head Coach Craig Tiley's men's tennis team earned its first ever No. 1 national ranking.

• Women's tennis sophomore Jennifer McGaffigan was nationally ranked throughout the season, becoming the highest ranked Illinois player since the mid-'90s. She advanced to the NCAA singles championships.

• Anthony Moorman broke the men's track school records in both the 60 and 200 meter dashes.

• The women's track team finished 13th at the NCAA Indoor Championships behind a 60-meter hurdles national title by Perdita Felicien in an NCAA record time of 7.90 seconds. Felicien also took the national title in the outdoor event leading the Illini to a tie for 10th at the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

• Volleyball's Shadia Haddad was named the first recipient of the Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year Award. The Illini tied for fourth in the Big Ten, returned to the national rankings, and hosted first and second round NCAA Tournament action.

• Matt Lackey finished second in the nation in his weight class to lead the Illini to a 10th place finish at the NCAA Championships. Griff Powell and John Lockhart joined Lackey as All-Americans.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
Ron Guenther
(Illinois '67)
11th Year

In 11 years as Director of Athletics at the University of Illinois, Ron Guenther has returned his alma mater to the national elite in competing for championships in 19 intercollegiate sports with outstanding coaches, staff and facilities, including a Top-25 finish in the Sears Cup competition. He was named the 2001 NACDA/Continental Airlines Central Region Athletic Director of the Year.

The MVP of the 1966 Illinois football squad, Guenther continues to move the Illini athletic program on a breakneck pace toward a position of competing at a championship level in all programs.

In the last six years, Guenther, 56, has overseen a series of dramatic changes that have local, regional and national media, alumni and fans marveling at his abilities to add sport programs in women's soccer and softball, recruit top-level coaches, plan for and build championship facilities with more than $50 million in capital donations and create a model program producing outstanding student-athletes. In the last five years, Guenther has established Illinois as a rising power among NCAA institutions by:

- Bringing the Chicago Bears to central Illinois for a one-season stint at Memorial Stadium. With a partnership formed in the fall of 2001, the Bears agreed to play one full season, 10 games, in Champaign while Soldier Field undergoes construction. With that partnership came funds to refurbish the Irwin football complex, including new locker and meeting rooms as well as a training room and upgrade to the coaches offices.
- Hiring and extending the contracts of championship-level coaches such as Head Track and Field and Cross Country Coach Gary Wieneke, who has helped the Illinois track and field and cross country programs to excel on both the NCAA and international level. Gary Wieneke's men's squad won the 1994 Big Ten Championship and placed second on three different occasions. Distance runner Marko Koers won three NCAA titles in 1993 and '96 and under Wieneke Illinois has boasted 145 All-Americans. Last season, Wieneke coached John Kronforst to first team All-Big Ten honors in cross country.
- Signing an exclusive $7.5 million agreement with Nike as one of only 13 Nike institutions in the United States.
- Christening new facilities like the Ubben Basketball Practice Facility, Irwin Indoor Football Facility and the Biefeldt Athletic Administration Building.
- Overseeing the construction and opening of the $2.1 million Irwin Academic Center, providing 600 student-athletes with a state-of-the-art, convenient academic center to reach their full potential as students.

Under Guenther's leadership, Illinois has steadily improved its performance on the field and in the classroom. Off the field, Illinois student-athletes have continued to benefit from outstanding academic service programs, matching the overall campus grade point average and producing nearly 100 Academic All-Big Ten award winners annually in all sports. Guenther also has spearheaded a revolution for funding for championship-level programs and facilities as the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics has opened necessary additional revenue streams totaling more than $3 million through working partnerships with corporate sponsors and management of the Illini Sports Radio Network.

Guenther's aggressive plan to make the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics a valuable and enthusiastic partner in the overall education, research and service mission of the University has begun to pay dividends in the 21st century.

Now in his fourth decade with the University of Illinois, Guenther was the Most Valuable Player on the 1966 Illinois football squad under Head Coach Pete Elliott. Guenther was a second-team All-Big Ten selection at offensive guard, also earning first-team Academic All-Big Ten honors and recognition as the University's outstanding senior in physical education. Guenther earned his bachelor of science degree in physical education from Illinois in 1967 and an M.S. in administration in 1968, before embarking on a successful career in coaching, athletic administration and business.

Guenther was named the 17th Director of Athletics in 1992 after serving for two years with the University of Illinois Foundation as Director of Major Gifts and for three years as a partner with The Barofsky Association, a Chicago-area investments and marketing firm.

From June of 1988 to March of 1989, Guenther served as Interim Director of Athletics for External Operations, administering the development program, public relations, promotions, tickets, merchandise and summer camps.

Guenther spent the previous three years within the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics as associate athletic director for development, coordinating the "Campaign for Excellence in Athletics." That campaign began the first major facelift of athletic facilities in nearly 60 years on campus and provided the impetus for the eventual construction of Illinois Field for baseball, the UI Outdoor Track and Field and Soccer Stadium, the Atkins Tennis Center and the Irwin Football Complex, housing coaches offices, locker rooms, sports medicine, strength and conditioning facilities and meeting rooms for Illinois football.

One of the nation's top athletic fund raisers, Guenther has been instrumental in soliciting gift commitments totaling more than $50 million toward capital improvements at Illinois during the last 15 years.

Firmly committed to delivering the Illinois message across the state and Midwest, Guenther served from 1983 to 1985 as assistant athletic director for Chicago operations, renewing a commitment that continues today to reach out to the thousands of Chicago-area alumni, donors and fans. During his tenure in Chicago, Guenther created the annual statewide caravan for promotion and public relations and saw a tripling in the number of donors to Illinois athletics.

Guenther spent eight years at North Central College in Naperville, Ill., including a stint from 1975-79 as director of admissions and also as an associate head football coach. From 1979-83, he served as the vice president of development and public affairs at North Central, helping to design and implement a $15 million Capital Campaign. As associate head football coach, Guenther helped the Cardinals amass a 23-12-2 record, including the school's first winning season in 15 years.

Before moving to North Central College, Guenther was offensive line coach at Boston College from 1971-74, helping to develop nine National Football League players. From 1968-71, Guenther was a teacher and coached football, wrestling and track and field for the Evanston Township and Glenbard High School systems in suburban Chicago.

Born Oct. 3, 1945, Guenther is a native of Elmhurst, Ill., and a graduate of York High School. He lettered at Illinois in 1965 and 1966, helping Illinois to a 24-14-1 record in his four seasons. Guenther earned MVP honors on a squad that produced five All-Americans in 1966.

PRESIDENT
Dr. James J. Stukel
 (Purdue '59)

President James Stukel assumed his duties as the 16th president of the University of Illinois in 1995.

For four years prior to coming to Champaign, Stukel served as chancellor and chief executive officer of the University of Illinois at Chicago. Stukel is known for his efforts to improve elementary and secondary education, health care and economic development in Chicago.

Stukel has been a part of the University of Illinois family since enrolling in graduate school 35 years ago. Stukel spent 23 years on the Urbana-Champaign campus as an administrator, engineering professor and researcher. He then moved to UIC, spending one year as vice chancellor for research and five years as executive vice chancellor and vice chancellor for administrative affairs before assuming the chancellor position in Chicago.

Stukel was born March 30, 1937, in Joliet, Ill., and attended Joliet public schools. He earned his B.S. degree in mechanical engineering from Purdue University in 1959 and spent two years as a research engineer for the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. In 1961, Stukel enrolled in graduate school at Illinois, earning his M.S. in mechanical engineering in 1963 and his Ph.D. in mechanical engineering in 1968.

He became assistant professor of environmental engineering and mechanical engineering at Illinois in 1968, associate professor in 1971 and full professor in 1975.

Stukel and his wife, the former M. Joan Helpling, have four children and one grandchild.

CHANCELLOR
Dr. Nancy Cantor
 (Sarah Lawrence '74)

Dr. Cantor held a number of academic leadership positions prior to becoming the chief executive officer at Illinois. Most recently, she held the position of Provost and Executive Vice President of Academic Affairs at the University of Michigan. Previous to that, she was Dean of the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies and Vice Provost for Academic Affairs at Michigan and Chair of the Department of Psychology at Princeton University.

Dr. Cantor is a psychologist specializing in the fields of Personality and Social Psychology, and Personality and Cognition. She has co-authored or edited three books, and is the author or co-author of more than 30 book chapters and nearly 50 articles.

Dr. Cantor is a fellow of the American Psychological Society, the American Psychological Association and the Society for Personality and Social Psychology. She has received many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Scientific Award for an Early Career Contribution to Psychology from the American Psychological Association, and the Woman of Achievement Award of the Anti-Defamation League. She was recently elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and to the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences, and serves as vice chair of the Board of Directors of the American Association for Higher Education.

Dr. Cantor is well known to higher education nationally. She has been actively involved with the National Science Foundation through her service on its various advisory boards and study sections. She served as a member of the National Research Council Committee on National Needs in Biomedical and Behavioral Science Research and as vice chair of the NRC Committee on Women in Science and Engineering.

Dr. Cantor is married to Dr. Steven Brechin, an environmental sociologist; they have two children, Maddy and Archie.
